Grand Commandery of Virginia Website

The Grand Commandery web site <http://virginiaknightstemplar.org> has been redesigned and expanded. You may now print pages and search for information. The site is open to your constructive critique. Please send corrections, comments and questions to info@virginiaknightstemplar.org.

Navigation aids include the expanded menu, a site map page, and a changes page. There are also links to special site features and related external sites.

The History pages are intended to provide information about our Past Grand Commanders. Many of these pages need more information. Please send what you may have. The Archives pages is a resurrection of the historical documents Sir Knight Mike Fulcher had collected.

Special display features include:

* button in the upper right corner that will remove the side bar and header.

* Below that is a Find field. Enter something you wish to search for and click the Go button.

* A little below that is a printer icon. That will open the current page in a format suitable for printing.

* Near the bottom of the page is a Slides button. That will display the current page in large print.

The Large Print link is similar, but it starts off with a list of pages.

Fraternally,

Bruce L. Van Buren

Grand Web Master

Sir Knights and Ladies:

I hope all are having a great summer. We are staying busy and hope to be publishing in September the Summer's good work. If you have news please forward to me so I can get published.

I would like to say that District No. 6, under the watchful eye of Roger Duncan, had an outstanding Official Visit. Roger and Lady Joyce did a beautiful job on decorations and preps for the dinner. It was delicious and from my observations, all enjoyed themselves.

Fraternally and In His Name,

Phillip E. Maybery
Grand Commander
