Spring Is Sprung

Sir Knights, as you read this editorial, I hope that you can reflect on the happenings of the past months since the Grand Encampment Triennial Conclave in Denver last August.

We are just recovering from a great fail and winter season. We are now in the first several weeks of spring, and looking forward to that part of the year that brings new hope for the future.

We of the Grand Encampment have had a very busy fall and winter season with six most successful Department Conferences, Grand Commandery Conclaves, and many social obligations since our installation as your officers of the Grand Encampment in Denver. We have been in attendance at the 3rd International Conference of Grand Masters in Toronto, Canada; Sovereign Great Priory of Canada; Supreme Assembly of the Social Order of the Beauceant; my own reception from my Commandery here in St. Louis; Northern Jurisdiction of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite; Rose Bowl Parade; Grand Masters' Conference in Fargo; A.M.D. Week in Washington, DC; Knights Templar Eye Foundation meetings; Easter Sunrise Service in Washington, DC; and obligations too numerous to list.

As those of you who have been in attendance at the Department Conferences know, all officers of the Grand Encampment have been present and share our agenda with you. We are looking forward to June when we will be in Chattanooga, Tennessee, for the Southeastern Department Conference, which will conclude our first year of this trienniums Department Conferences.

May sees the final results of the 27th Annual Voluntary Campaign, and our hopes are that we have another one million-dollar fund-raising event.

Mother's Day

May also is a month that has been set aside for many years to honor our mothers.

To all of our mothers and our ladies who are mothers: This is a day that we give all our love and respect to those of you who have dedicated your lives to all of us and our families.

Memorial Day

This is also the month for us to remember those who gave their last full measure of devotion for their country when called upon to lay down their lives in its defense.

In the book of Isaiah, chapter 66 at verse 13, we can read some words that are worth pondering: "As one whom his mother comforts, so will I comfort you; and you shall be comforted."

That familiar verse is an Old Testament version of the Prodigal Son, with this difference: Instead of returning to his father, the prodigal returns to his mother. Another difference is that the prodigal is not a person but a nation.

When we turn back the pages of history, we are reminded that Israel for a long time had been like a wandering child, exiled in a far country. The far country was Babylon, where for seventy years a nation lived as though in captivity and slavery. These were years of heartbreak when under foreign rulers the people had hung their harps upon the willows and refused to sing.

Now, like penitent prodigals, a nation was returning to its homeland. Beside the desolate city with its broken walls, God appeared, ready to welcome his sad and forlorn people, so from the prophet's voice came the words: 'As one whom his mother comforts, so do I comfort you.'

Another suggestion in the parable that we shouldn't miss is the maturity and age which are written into the words. Time has passed. The thoughtless and ungrateful nation has grown into manhood. The experience of the far country has brought maturity, and the nation is no longer like a wayward youth but is reaching up to become fully responsible. With wounds and weariness, a nation, though exiled for seventy years, still belongs to its own motherhood. In the presence of God, strength and honor will be revived.

It is a tribute to motherhood and an interesting revelation of who God is.

The language of religion has taught us to think in terms of God as father. "Like as a father pitieth his children," the Bible says, and Jesus teaches us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven." God always seems to be put into a masculine frame of reference.

Here, in these words of an Old Testament parable, motherhood is proclaimed as a perfect counterpart of the divine nature. Such an idea implies home, family, a sense of belonging, and the important influence of women as mothers.

In the city of Atlanta there is a statue to one of the South's prominent journalists, Henry W. Grady. Behind the statue is the story of how he, when older in years, had assumed the heavy burden of many public affairs.

One day he left his office without a word said to anyone. From Thursday to Monday no one knew where he had gone. His chair was vacant and his whereabouts a mystery, but when Monday came, he returned with a smile on his face and a spring in his step.

As the mystery unravelled, it became known that he had slipped away to his old homestead. He had been away from it for months and he needed something he was missing. Upon seeing his mother, he said to her, "Your boy has been too much out in the world and has been losing his ideals. He has come back to be renourished." Like the father of the Prodigal Son, his mother wrapped her arms around him and tenderly touched his pains and healed his hurts.

Motherhood is where our roots are. It is the fountain of life from whence we draw refreshment for our souls' thirst. All of us like to be sheltered within the glow of our ancestral heritage. That is where we recapture our design and destiny of purpose. The soul's armor," John Ruskin once remarked, "is never well set to the heart until a woman's hand has braced it, and it is only when she braces it loosely that his manhood fails."

Once a mother had come to Jesus, asking that her two sons might sit, "one at the right hand and the other on the left, in your kingdom." Who would blame a mother for making such a request? It is what all mothers should want for their children.

Jesus did not deny the request, but he promised it could only happen if the sons proved worthy. That is how it is or ought to be in all families. Each must bear the responsibility for what is deserving.

So, the prophet who proclaimed the notion of the motherhood of god would also ask, "Can a woman forget her child that she should not have compassion on her own?"

It is such a wonderful picture to hold before us, seeing in that symbol of godly benevolence the love and patience that does not falter and the hope that does not give up and the faith that always stands on tiptoe. It is what Robbie Burns saw in his mother:

"O wort thou in the cauld blast, On yonder lea, on yonder lea; My plaidie to the angry airt, I'd shelter thee, I'd shelter thee."

The words remind us of the serenity and security which the motherhood of God suggests. "I do not forget thee," says the Lord, "for, I have graven thee upon the palm of my hand."

The 18th Holy Land Pilgrimage has been completed. A total of ninety-four Christian ministers from forty-two grand jurisdictions made the pilgrimage this year, forty-eight with the first group and forty-six with the second group.

When the ministers read the Bible, it will come alive, because they were there. The ministers walked down the Mount of Olives through the Kidron Valley and into the Old City of Jerusalem. They walked the Via Dolorosa; they saw Golgatha and the empty tomb. They were in the little chapel representing the place where Christ ascended. They spent two nights on the shore of the Sea of Galilee and took a boat trip on the sea in a replica of a two thousand-year-old boat recently found buried on the shoreline. The ministers visited Nazareth, Cana Bethlehem. They walked where Jesus walked and taught and healed and prayed. They were there!

Since the Holy Land Pilgrimage program began in 1977, the Sir Knights of forty-seven grand jurisdictions have sent a total of 768 Christian ministers to the Holy Land as their guests.

Plans for the 19th Holy Land Pilgrimage have been completed. The First Section will be from February 6 through February 16, 1996, and the Second Section will be from February 19 through February 29, 1996.

It is not too early to start making plans for the 19th Holy Land Pilgrimage. Your fund-raising programs can start now. Your minister selection process can start now.

Sir Knights, let us set a goal to send at least one Christian minister from every grand jurisdiction on the upcoming 19th Holy Land Pilgrimage. Your support of this great Christian Templar program is greatly appreciated.

Letters from Holy Land Pilgrimage recipients

I wish to convey to the Grand Encampment of Knights Templar and to the Holy Land Pilgrimage Committee my deep appreciation for being included in the 1995 Pilgrimage. The trip was well-panned, admirably constructed for the needs of the clergy, and adorned with amenities which greatly added to the experience!

May God bless you as you continue on your own personal pilgrimage of seeking and serving.

I am left overwhelmed at the kindness you bestowed on me. I feel very honored and very humbled to have had the privilege of walking in the footsteps of Jesus.

I want you to know how grateful I am for what you have done. It has changed my life for the better.

I thought the trip was planned superbly well. The itinerary was great. The guide (Ezra) was fantastic. The accommodations were excellent. You have carefully thought through every part of the experience. The whole opportunity has left me deeply moved and with the desire to be an even more faithful minister of the Lord Jesus Christ.

I want to say thank you and assure you that your investment in me will be shared a hundredfold in every way I can think of to tell the story of the faith and to share the experience with others.

Ron L. Keller,
Pastor First United Methodist Church

Thanks to the Knights Templar. I appreciate them providing this opportunity that I might not otherwise have had. This trip is a tremendous gift to pastors, who sometimes feel overworked and under-appreciated in our society. The Knights Templar has done an excellent job in supporting and encouraging Christian pastors to proclaim evermore boldly the true Gospel of salvation in Jesus Christ to a hurting world. Thank you for that, and for this wonderful trip.

Sir Knights, Help Our Pilgrims
by Sir Knight William H. Trotter, Sr., P.C.

Across the waters and across the land,
There is a call for a helping hand
To help a pilgrim, a man of God,
To tread the land the Master trod.

Give some aid, even a widow's mite.
'Tis a knightly duty, to give, it's right;
To walk the paths of Peter and Paul,
Helps one's soul to stand strong and tall.

Sir Knight—stop and think and give a pause;
Render your gift for a noble cause.
Make a vow, like the Templars of old.
Help another, with coin, pence or gold,

To go, see and know the Holy Land,
Where faith was given for Christian man.
These pilgrims renewed in faith, that cord,
With zeal anew, will teach of our Lord.

So goodly Sirs; Pledged to Cross and Crown!
Send another to see Christ's hometown;
To see the hills, the sky and the land,
Beheld and known to the Son of Man.

An open heart and an open purse
Will help someone who seeks, has that thirst
To withstand life's turmoil and all strife
And know his God, the Water of Life.

The Grand Encampment of Knights Templar of the United States of America is sponsoring a Crusade to the Holy Land. Your Grand Master and his Lady Dorella are looking forward to greeting Sir Knights and their ladies from the Grand Encampment who want to take part in this once-in-a-lifetime event.

Our Tenth Crusade will be the first since the death of Grand Master Jacques de Molay in which a Grand Master and Knights of the Temple will visit the Holy Land, and walk where Jesus walked.

This Crusade will leave JFK Airport in New York on November 7, 1995, and return to New York on November 17, 1995. The cost for the entire trip will be $1,460 per person. Allied Masonic Degree Weekend-1995 by Sir Knight Morrison L. Cooke, P.D.C., K.C.T., P.S.M.

This report was prepared by remote control, thanks to Donald H. Smith, M.E.P.G.M., G.C.T., and Rodney Williams, Jr., R.E.P.G.C., K.C.T. It is a result of an untimely and unwelcome little bug, called "the flu," and proves the old saying: Man proposes - God disposes." Any errors are those of the reporter and not his suppliers, as it were.

Nevertheless, in spite of this adversity, the Annual A.M.D. meetings opened on time, promptly at 3:00 P.M. on Thursday, February 23, 1995, in the Washington Hotel, with the Supreme Magus College, SRICF, M.I. Joe Lewis, IX°, Chief Adept, presiding. North Carolina College conferred Grade V in an excellent manner.

Following this, the High Council, SRICF, was called to order by the Supreme Magus, M.W. Joe Lewis, IX°. After many years of faithful and efficient service, Frater Joe finally decided to relinquish the reins of the Council, and Frater James M. Willson, IX°, of Floydada, Texas, was elevated to the office of Supreme Magus for the next triennium. Jim is a Past Department Commander, and wears many hats in all branches of Masonry.

At the Annual Banquet of the Society, at which M.W. Joe Lewis presided, he caused the Secretary-General, R.W. Herbert A. Fisher, IX°, to be made an honorary Chief of the Ponca Indian Tribe, with the moniker of Flying Pink Pigeon, a most appropriate title. He was presented with a gorgeous, authentic Indian chief's headdress.

The speaker at the banquet, the Grand Abbot (?) of Queens Chapel, talked about student understanding of history. The Abbot was later exposed – oops! - revealed to be the R.E. Grand Prelate of the Grand Encampment, among other titles, the Reverend Tom Weir. This, mercifully, concluded the first day's events.

Right on schedule Friday morning at 9:00 A.M. the Grand College of Rites was convened by M.I. Charles R. Neumann (R.E. Grand Recorder, Grand Encampment), Grand Chancellor. Joseph S. Lewis, OK, was elected Grand Chancellor, and Charles Stuckey, OK, was appointed Grand Sentinel.

Ven. S.M. Edward H. Fowler presided over Grand Master's Council "A", which followed. C. Clark Julius, PA, was elected Sovereign Master, and Joe Manning was appointed Tiler.

Great Chief's Council "O", Knight Masons, was then called to order by Excellent Chief, William G. Hinton.

Then, just before lunch the Grand Council, Knight Masons of the U.S.A., met with M.E. Jack Watts, Great Chief in the East. Due to the sorrowful passing of the Grand Scribe, R.E. Ray Scarborough, R.E. Douglas L. Jordon, VA, was elected to succeed him. A unanimous vote was necessary to change the Constitution so that members who are not Past Excellent Chiefs could be elected to administrative office. Doug will, of course, also be Scribe for Great Chief's Council.

M.E. Evan L. Fleming, P.G.C., MS, and M.I.P.G.G.M., G.G.C. Cryptic Masons, was installed as the new Great Chief. Edwin R. Carpenter is the new Treasurer. Appointed as Grand Tiler was Van Evan, P.G.C., MS. Harvey Mize, P.G.C., AR, was appointed Excellent Chief of Great Chief's Council.

After lunch, Grand Preceptor's Tabernacle, HRAKTP, was opened by Em. Preceptor Rodney Williams, Jr., K.C.
K.P. Williams, as is the custom, was elected Preceptor for another year. Two candidates from other Tabernacles were obligated and anointed by P.G.P. Donald H. Smith, K.G.C.

Grand College, HRAKTP, was then called into session by M.E. Grand Preceptor, John H. Watts, K.G.C. K.P. Russell K. Amling, K.G.C., AZ and MN, was elected Grand Preceptor, and K.P. Norman Williams, Grand Registrar, which means he will also be Registrar for Grand Preceptor's Tabernacle. K.P. Robert McKinney, K.C., AZ, was appointed as Grand Outer Guard.

The Society of Blue Friars opened with M.I. Wallace McLeod, Grand Abbot, presiding. The new Friar is Chris Murphy, Canada, who presented an illustrated paper entitled, "Masonic Stamps of North America."

Later, the Annual Feast and Assembly of the Philalethes Society met with President Wallace McLeod at the head. The speaker was Robert Davis, 2nd V.P., and his paper was on "Change." Forest Haggard succeeded McLeod as President for the ensuing year.

The first of the fun degrees was the Order of the Bath, with Most Hon. Harold D. Elliott II, Commander General, presiding. Several candidates were properly bathed, scrubbed and hung out to dry in the usual manner. Thus endeth the second day of the A.M.D. Weekend.

Saturday morning witnessed the Annual Breakfast of Convent General, KYCH. M.E. Donald E. Friend, G.M.G., presided. Knight James M. Willson, TX, P.D.C., was installed as Grand Treasurer General, due to the unfortunate demise of Knight Clarence K. Jones, K.G.C., Past G.M.G. and Grand Treasurer. Knight Edward Bloch, NV, was installed as Grand Guard.

The 103rd Annual Communication of Grand Council, A.M.D., followed the KYCH breakfast, with M.V. S. Flory Diehl, S.G.M., in the chair. Diehl also presided at the annual banquet, and M.V. Wallace McLeod was the speaker, giving a most informative lecture on Masonic language and symbolism that has become a part of our national language and culture.

M.V. James M. Ward, R.E.D.G.M., Grand Encampment, was elected and installed Sovereign Grand Master, and R.V. Charles R. Neumann, R.E. Grand Recorder, Grand Encampment, was appointed Grand Sentinel.

Following lunch earlier, Mecca Council No. 76, Salisbury, NC, exemplified the Architect and Grand Architect Degree. It was well received.

Ven. Bruce H. Hunt, K.G.C., P.S.G.M., and S.M. of Nine Muses Council No. 13, conducted the Annual Communication of the Council. As a result of the death of Clarence K. Jones, Dr. Forrest Haggard was appointed to the vacancy thus created.

All good things must come to an end, and the best was to end on a happy note with the Ye Antient Order of Corks, M.W. Thomas R. Hall, Grand Bung of the U.S.A., and R.W. Herbert A. Fisher, Grand Quatro, doing the "Corking" in their inimitable manner. Thus endeth the third and final day of the 1995 A.M.D. Weekend. The 1996 meetings will again be held in the Hotel Washington, on February 15-17, 1996.

Biographies Of
The Grand Masters

Andrew Davison Agnew
Thirty-first Grand Master
1934-1937

In 1922 he was appointed Grand Warder of the Grand Encampment and was elected Grand Generalissimo in 1931. On the death of Grand Master Walker in 1932, he became acting Grand Master. At the Conclave held in San Francisco in 1934 he was elected Grand Master of the Grand Encampment. He was the Representative of the Great Priory of Helvetia (Switzerland) near the Grand Encampment of the United States.

Sir Knight Agnew was dignified in appearance and impressive, not only in his public addresses, but also in his personal contacts. He was able in his discussions and decisions, and was highly respected by all who had worked with him in community and fraternal affairs.

Mark Norris
Thirty-Second Grand Master
1937-1940

In April, 1882, he was admitted to the Bar in Michigan and began practice at Grand Rapids, Michigan, where he resided the rest of his life. He engaged in general law practice, and built up an extensive business, finally establishing the firm of Norris, McPherson, Harrington and Waer. He was Past President of the Grand Rapids Bar Association and the State Bar of Michigan.

He was active in all civic affairs. He was a school trustee and a member of the City Board of Education of Grand Rapids from 1906 to 1921.
On September 3, 1885, he married Cornelia Abbott, who was Supervisor of Art in the public schools. She died in 1913. Two daughters and a son were born to them.

He was the founder of the Masonic Country Club and an early member of the Kent Country Club and the Peninsular Club. He travelled widely both for his own pleasure and in the interests of the Knights Templar, visiting Malta, Istanbul, and the Holy Land, as well as England, France, Germany and Hawaii.

Shortly before he was to preside at the Grand Encampment in 1940 he became ill and was unable to attend. However, he recovered and was able to resume his legal and fraternal activities to some extent, until his death which occurred on May 31, 1943.

The funeral was conducted in the Asylum of Do Molai Commandery at the Masonic Temple in Grand Rapids, and was attended by many of the officers of the Grand Encampment. Burial was in the family lot at Ypsilanti.

Sir Knight Norris was raised in York Lodge No. 410 on January 19, 1900, and was Master of the Lodge in 1904.

On February 13, 1902, he was exalted in Columbia Chapter No. 132 and greeted in Tyre Council No. 10 in 1905.

In the Scottish Rite he received the 32\textsuperscript{1} in December, 1900, and was crowned 330 Honorary at Boston on September 17, 1907. He was Commander-in-Chief of DeWitt Clinton Consistory at Grand Rapids from 1915 to 1918, and Thrice Potent Master of Moriah Lodge of Perfection from 1925 to 1927.

He was a Past Sovereign of St. Vincent's Conclave, Red Cross of Constantine. For a time he was Trustee of the Michigan Masonic Home at Alona. He was also a Past President of the Masonic Temple Association.

He was knighted in De Molai Commandery No. 5 at Grand Rapids on December 5, 1902, and was Eminent Commander in 1907. In 1917, he was elected Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery of Michigan.

At the Triennial Conclave of 1923 he was appointed Grand Standard Bearer and in 1937 was elected Grand Master.

Sir Knight Norris was a loyal citizen, a devoted friend, a lover of nature, a brilliant lawyer and an outstanding Mason. He was held in universal esteem and his passing left a lonely place in Templary. He was proud of his membership in the Order of the Temple and in his address stated:

"Every organization such as ours should be known in the community where it exists, as a focus for work, for Christianity and civilization, not only among its members, but among the members of the community where it exists."

Harry Gilmore Pollard
Thirty-Third Grand Master
1940-1943

Harry G. Pollard was born in Lowell, Massachusetts, on February 19, 1875, and lived in that city all his life. He received his education there and in 1892 assumed the responsibilities of President of the A. G. Pollard Company.

On April 29, 1903, he married Miss Leah Parchert of Buffalo, New York, and two sons were born to them.

Sir Knight Pollard was made a Master Mason in Ancient York Lodge of Lowell on June 11, 1896, and was Worshipful Master in 1907. He served as District Deputy Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts in 1912 and 1913, and Deputy Grand Master in 1920.

He was exalted in Mount Horeb Chapter in Lowell on February 15, 1897, and was High Priest in 1918. He was Grand High Priest of the Grand Chapter of Massachusetts in 1925 and was Grand Treasurer of the Grand Chapter in 1930.
I’ll Ham It Up… As I Egg You On!

27th Annual Voluntary Campaign .Knights Templar Eye Foundation

by Sir Knight Donald H. Smith, Past Grand Master
National Campaign Chairman, 27th Voluntary Campaign

The 27th Annual Voluntary Campaign for our Eye Foundation is over, and all that is needed is to count the donations that come in late to arrive at our total gift to those who need our help. We pray that the amount donated will exceed that of our last campaign.

During this campaign we have tried to stress the fact that all Commanderies should contribute by having an event to raise money through contributions from the local populace, those who are not affiliated with our order.

On March 18, I had the pleasure of attending such an event in Lexington, Kentucky. It was the 23rd Annual Ham and Egg Breakfast conducted by Webb Commandery No. 1 of Kentucky. It was held in Oleika Shrine Temple and was open from 6:00 A.M. until 1:00 P.M. A large crowd was present enjoying the country ham, scrambled eggs, biscuits, red-eye gravy, and grits that were being served by a happy group of Templars, who enjoyed the opportunity to work together on this important project for the less fortunate. I am certain that every Sir Knight would gain a great deal of personal satisfaction from being a part of such an event. It takes a bit of work to gain a bit of joy.

Webb Commandery No. 1, Knights Templar, was chartered on January 1, 1820, and they are celebrating the 175th anniversary of their chartering by our first Grand Master, Sir Knight DeWitt Clinton.

Your Commandery does not have to be 175 years old to plan a special event to raise funds for our great charity; it just needs a Christian Spirit of love with the faith that it can be done. The 28th Voluntary Campaign will begin on December 1, 1995; you have plenty of time to plan and execute a fund-raising event.

Sir Knight Donald Hinslea Smith, Most Eminent Past Grand Master of the Grand Encampment and P.G.C. of Kentucky, is the National Voluntary Campaign Chairman for the 27th Annual Voluntary Campaign. He is a member of Richmond Commandery No. 19, Richmond, Kentucky. He resides at 1041 Idylwild Drive, Richmond, KY 40475
"There Is Good In People and in the World"

Year-old Tori Klinkert doesn't understand that Royal Arch Masons of Tacoma, Washington, and Charleston, South Carolina, rallied to her support when a rare heart defect left her heart unable to beat normally, but her parents do, and that is why her mother Heather Klinkert is saying, "It restored our faith that there is good in people and in the world."

According to Ronald N. Dingle, KTCH holder and member of Ivanhoe Commandery No. 4, Tacoma, the Klinkerts didn't have the money to fly their sick baby to Dr. Paul Gillette of the Medical University of South Carolina, which pediatric cardiologist John McCloskey had determined was the best doctor for her treatment. The Royal Arch Masons of the Tacoma area donated $4,370 in airfare to aid the Klinkerts. That, along with an airline subsidy, did the trick, and the baby is now healthy and happy at home.

Lloyd Christopher, Deputy Grand High Priest of South Carolina, and his wife met the couple at the airport and were their guide to and from the hospital, as well as inviting them for dinner.

Sir Knight Dingle stated that the Royal Arch Masons help an average of twelve children a year. He also said, "As an individual, I couldn't do anything, but as a representative of this group, I'm able to, and it's a big thrill."

S.O.O.B. Installation Honored by Presence of Three Grand Commanders

Knights Templar Stein To Benefit Knights Templar Eye Foundation

Good news for Knights Templar Brothers! I just located 405 stein bodies to finish off the first limited edition of the Masonic Knights Templar stains to benefit the Eye Foundation. This stein is the first in a series representing different Masonic bodies that will be produced over the next eight years. Each stain is 26-oz. with custom-made blue and brown body, a bell-shaped lid and shield thumb-lift, and each includes ten pieces of artwork on the body. Each is hand painted in 22c gold and platinum and fired for seven days. Then, two other colors (black and brown) are added to make up the beautiful four-color effect of this Masonic stein. Each stein is numbered for this limited edition; this series contains one thousand pieces total from the previous sales of 1993 and these 405 pieces. The cost of the stein is $45.00, which includes shipping and handling, and of this amount $10.00 goes to the Eye Foundation. Each contains a certificate of authenticity. It will make a great gift for a Sir Knight for any occasion. (The stein for sale is very much like the one in the picture; however, the lid is different and the body is bigger.) To order, please send check or money order to: Stanley C. Buz, P.O. Box 702, Whitehall, PA 18052. Shipment will be in approximately 4 weeks after receipt of order.
The Mason Who Saved The American Constitution
by Dr. Stephen R. Greenberg, KYCH, 33°

It is quite impossible to understand human genius." These words of Henry Adams might well serve as a fitting prelude to an essay describing the remarkable achievements of our esteemed Masonic Brother, Benjamin Franklin. His contributions to the growth of America, within and without, are legend. His insight into the relationship between electricity and lightning paved the way for much of our present comprehension of the physics of electric current. His inventive brilliance produced the Franklin stove, bifocal glasses, and ventilation systems. He organized the first municipal fire department, the first free public library, and the lighting and paving of city streets. He was a writer and publisher of newspapers, as well as a collector and lover of books. Abroad, Franklin proved to be America's ablest diplomat. His love for education lead him to found the University of Pennsylvania and to stimulate public education. He organized the first U.S. Postal Service and was our country's first Postmaster General. Indeed, no one in these United States contributed more toward the improvement of the American lifestyle.

Great as such accomplishments might seem, they pale in the shadow of Franklin's energy in the formation of American government. It may be truly said that he saved the Constitution for all time to come.

In September of 1786, a meeting of delegates to the forthcoming Constitutional Convention was held to decide where the assembly would take place. This preliminary session was styled as "The Annapolis Convention." It was agreed that the proceeding would begin in Philadelphia on the second Monday in May of the following year. The announced goal was "to devise such further provisions as shall appear to them necessary to render the Constitution of the Federal Government adequate to the exigencies of the union."

On February 17, 1787, Congress resolved, "that it is expedient that a convention of delegates be held in Philadelphia for the sole and express purpose of revising the Articles of Confederation." It was this convention which gave rise to our present Constitution.

Dr. Franklin only two years before had returned from abroad after serving in Paris as America's first ambassador to the Court of France. Though failing in health, his strong desire was to spend his last days in his city of Philadelphia surrounded by his beloved family, his friends, and his books. Nevertheless, at the age of eighty-one years and nearing the end of his life, he was again called into the service of his country, this time as a delegate from Pennsylvania to the Constitutional Convention.

Thus it was that in the spring of 1787 Benjamin Franklin came to the convention as a citizen, believing fully that he might yet serve the people among whom he had returned to live. He was now aged and infirm, but his mind was yet clear and he possessed a vast fund of experience that would serve the convention well.

It was necessary for him to be carried into the session on a chair; his voice was failing and many of his remarks to his fellows were brief and were often read out by his friend James Wilson. The convention opened in the East Room of the Pennsylvania State House, the same room where the Second Continental Congress had met in May of 1775 and where the Declaration of Independence had been signed.

It was not, however, until the twenty-fifth of May that a quorum of the seven states needed evolved. During this intervening period, delegates were arriving from twelve states. The state of Rhode Island was not represented because its farming population feared that centralized government would remove its privileges.

With the exception of the first day, two days over the Independence holiday, and the days from July 26 to August 6, the time when the committee overseeing the details for the final document was in session; Franklin sat through all of the proceedings of this long and unbearably hot summer.

Interesting enough, Dr. Franklin sat through the sessions, as Benjamin Rush reflected, "as a spectacle of transcendence." In truth, Benjamin Franklin contributed mostly to the events which were transpiring in the role of a patriarch.

His absence on the opening day prevented him from proposing George Washington as the president of the convention, though other members of the Pennsylvania delegation did so. From his initial appearance, it was established that Dr. Franklin would be much more than an onlooker. Although his interventions into the debates were not excessive, his influence was much in evidence as he would often challenge unwise proposals or attempt to dislodge the log jams of argument among the delegates from a dozen states during the long hot days of that summer. When Dr. Franklin did rise before the assembly, it was always to make a sage observation or to offer proper guidance. On one occasion, he recommended that the national government should be empowered to veto certain laws passed by individual states. This was accepted.

In the course of this crucial summer, Benjamin Franklin assumed his most significant role. Being debated was the question of how the separate states

"Sensing that this day marked a turning point in the survival of all those things which had guided America through the seas of turmoil into freedom, Benjamin Franklin again rose, but this time he made a motion that all future sessions be opened with prayer, a plea for divine guidance." would be represented in future congresses, the size of their respective populations being the key issue. Should such representation be in proportion to the population? If so, then surely the smaller states which regarded their rights to be fully equal to those of the more populous ones, would be swamped in Congress. Arguments grew heated on the hot day of June 28. It seemed as though all of the good effects that were envisioned from this great body of Americans looking to America's future would be forever lost. Sensing that this day marked a turning point in the survival of all those things which had guided America through the seas of turmoil into freedom, Benjamin Franklin again rose, but this time he made a motion that all future sessions be opened with prayer, a plea for divine guidance.
At the beginning of the War of Independence, Dr. Franklin noted, there had been much disunity of purpose, but Congress had seen the wisdom of opening each day with prayer within this very room in which they were now assembled. Once again, the need was present to invoke the help of Almighty God. Without it, "we shall be divided by our little partial local interests; our projects will be confounded, and we ourselves shall become a reproach and a bye word down to future ages. And what is worse, mankind may hereafter from this unfortunate instance, despair of establishing government by human wisdom and leave it to chance, war and conquest."

This motion for daily prayer was rejected by the delegates; nevertheless, the moving words of Dr. Franklin had placed a lasting effect upon the mood of the convention. Two days later, on June 30, his proposal was adopted.

A committee consisting of one member from each state present was formed to draw up a working agreement on all points at issue, much like the Constitution provides as it exists today. Franklin was sorely afraid that in its final form this document would not gain approval. Arguments continued throughout the remainder of that summer. He continued to suggest additional motions, but in such things he had only limited success.

In September, Benjamin Franklin, sensing a stagnation of any positive movement among the delegates, rose once more, with great difficulty, and said this: The longer I live the more convincing proof I see of this Truth, that God governs in the affairs of men; if a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without His notice, is it probable that an empire can rise without his aid?" These words electrified all those present, but Franklin continued, Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that built it. Without His concurring aid, we shall succeed in this political building no better than the builders of Babel. I firmly believe this."

Ben Franklin concluded by urging every member present to "doubt a little of his own infallibility, put aside specific reservations and vote unanimously for approval of this new constitution." They did this. Thank God, they did this!

On September 17, 1787, this great document, forever after known as the

"Ben Franklin concluded by urging every member present to 'doubt a little of his own infallibility, put aside specific reservations and vote unanimously for approval of this new constitution.' They did this."

Constitution of the United States of America, was signed. As the signatures were being affixed, Dr. Franklin looked up toward the chair on which George Washington was seated. On the wall behind him was painted a sun. He remarked to those around him that artists often had difficulty in differentiating between a rising and setting sun. "But now at length, I have the happiness to know that it is a rising and not a setting sun."

The creation of this mighty Constitution had been most difficult, and often heartrending, but in the end, it was accomplished. The devoted efforts of this great American Mason had won for his beloved country a new and bright future. Benjamin Franklin provided the capstone when he said this: "We have, however done our best, and now it must take its chance."
