THE COUNTDOWN TO THE 61ST TRIENNIAL CONCLAVE CONTINUES. Reservation, registration, a schedule of events, and other pertinent data on the Triennial were given on pages 14-15 of the April issue of this magazine. Again, I invite you to come to Nashville and be a part of this Triennial Conclave. Hopefully, you have already made your room reservations and sent in your registration. If you have not, I urge you to do so NOW. Time's a-wasting!

THE NEW MEMBER PACKET developed by the Committee on Membership under the direction of Sir Knight Stan Simons, H.P.D.C., is very good. It is, in my opinion, an excellent work. Copies of this packet have been distributed to all the "key men" coordinating the Templary 2000 Crusade with a request that every new Knight Templar be given a copy of the new member packet. Many times, Sir Knights, we fail to adequately inform our new members as to who we are, where we came from, and what our purposes are. In fact, I have firsthand information that some new members do not know to which Commanderies they belong or when and where their Commanderies meet. This situation is a serious shortfall, and we must take the actions needed to correct it. Preparations are being made to have the new member packet printed and distributed through our headquarters office. In the meantime, I urge you to communicate with the "key man" in your jurisdiction to ensure that a sufficient number of copies are available to give to each new member at the time he is Knighted.

THE KNIGHTS TEMPLAR DIAMOND WATCH by Hamilton was commissioned to mark the new millennium and the Templary 2000 Crusade. It is a beautiful work with a dial showing a Templar Cross and replicas of the jewels of Templar officers shown in high relief. The Templar watch has a proven, reliable ETA Swiss quartz movement and can be personalized with your initials, Commandery number, and exclusive serial number. This unique presentation is worthy of your consideration.

SIR KNIGHT JOHN L CROFTS, SR., Most Eminent Past Grand Master of the Grand Encampment, died February 28, 2000. He was ninety years of age. Until recent years, he was active and made significant contributions in many professional, civic, religious, and fraternal organizations. It was my privilege to be associated with John Crofts and to know him to be a man of high moral and spiritual standards, a man of integrity who was respected and admired by his many friends and acquaintances. John Crofts was a man of vision, of intellect, and of learning whose many ideas, plans, and programs for the benefit of our Christian order have in their season come to pass. As I reflect on the life and times of John Crofts, I am reminded of the many other staunch Masonic Warriors who have passed to their eternal reward and whose equals we are not likely to see again in our lifetimes. Sir Knights, it is fitting that we keep them in our memories and honor them for their service to our great Fraternity. I join with you in mourning their deaths and in offering my condolences to their families and friends. Let us thank GOD HE allowed them to come our way. It was truly a blessing to have been in their company. May they rest in peace.

A Message to All Sir Knights from James M. Ward,
The Grand Master of the Grand Encampment
Concerning Proposed Plan for Increasing Shrine Membership

The Imperial Potentate of the Shrine of North America presented a comprehensive paper on membership to the Grand Masters of Masons at the Conference of Grand Masters of North America in Savannah, Georgia, on Tuesday, February 22, 2000. I believe these statements and statistics to be correct wherever I mention them in this message.

I am convinced and take every opportunity to state that we are Masons first! We are Masons working in the Symbolic Lodges and in the Scottish and York Rites, and we are Masons working as Shriners. As members of all the organizations in the Family of Freemasonry, we have, do now, and will continue to make incredibly fine contributions toward the betterment of all of humanity. Without a doubt the ways and means to continue these contributions are best achieved when the welfare of all organizations in the Family of Freemasonry is promoted unselfishly. One of the primary purposes of the Templary 2000 Crusade was to promote unity between all the members in the Family of Freemasonry and to point out the benefits that can be derived from working together. In my opinion, the Crusade has been eminently successful in achieving the purposes for which it was implemented. The implementation of the plans and programs with philosophies similar to that of the 2000 Crusade and in an up-to-date format will promote unity and result in even greater achievements.

I sincerely and respectfully request that each of us adopt the attitude that we are "Masons first" and that we will take every opportunity to speak to and work for the well-being of ALL the organizations in the Family of Freemasonry.

Included in the paper delivered by the Imperial Potentate to the Grand Masters assembled were accurately detailed, unfavorable membership statistics concerning membership in our Masonic Fraternity and particularly in the Shrine of North America. The paper stated that one possible answer to the Shrine membership problem would be to pursue the following program:

1. Invite men to join the Shrine as "Civic Members" (since changed to "Social Membership"). These men would be charged $25.00 in addition to their regular Temple dues. These with "Social Memberships" would not be entitled to vote at a Temple meeting or to hold an office in the Temple.
2. The additional $25.00 would be set aside to assist those with "Social Membership" in becoming members of the Masonic Lodge and the Scottish or York Rites. When they successfully become members of the Lodge and the Scottish and/or York Rites, their Temple dues would revert to the regular amount.
3. The applicants for "Social Membership" would be investigated in a manner similar to that presently done at the Symbolic Lodge level, but by an investigating group of men interested in the entire fraternity. (The provisions to allow this are ready for inclusion in the Shrine laws.)
4. These applicants for "Social Membership" would be voted on in the same manner as is presently done at the Symbolic Lodge level.
5. It would be the duty of the present Shrine membership to teach those with Social Memberships' about Masonry and encourage them to be a part of the complete Masonic Fraternity.

This proposed plan to solve, hopefully, some of the Shrine membership problems would allow an applicant to have a Social Membership," without the present prerequisites, namely membership in a Masonic Lodge and either the Scottish or York Rite. The plan does call for those with "Social Membership" to be encouraged to become a part of the complete Masonic Fraternity, but it does not mandate this as a provision for maintaining their social membership in the Shrine.

As a Shriner and as Grand Master of the Grand Encampment, I personally empathize with the leaders of the Shrine of North America and share their concern about the necessity for an innovative and dynamic program to attract new members, to retain our existing members, and to reinstate suspended or demitted members.

The landmarks, tenets, and principles that form the firm foundation upon which the organizations in the Family of Freemasonry are erected remain tried and true, and certainly, none of us is willing or want to change them. The ways and means by which we support these landmarks, tenets, and principles do change, and it is our duty to recognize this need for updating and to determine how to do it in a timely manner. Working together as Masons, Scottish and York Rite Masons and Shrine Masons, we CAN implement ways and means to solve our membership problems and to promote our mutual welfare.

The Imperial Potentate of the Shrine of North America, Noble Ralph Semb, has called for a "Summit Meeting" of the leaders of the Shrine and of the York and Scottish Rites and Grand Masters from several grand jurisdictions. I commend Imperial Sir Semb for his foresight, leadership, and commitment. This summit meeting will be convened in Tampa, Florida, on April 17, 2000, for the purpose of discussing mutually beneficial ways and means of effectively addressing our membership problems. I believe we can work together, and I believe we can all prosper by it.

Therefore, I request you to contact the officers of the Shrine Temples in your jurisdiction and the representatives from those Shrine Temples to the Imperial Shrine Council and to respectfully assure them of our commitment to work in unity with them in an effort to solve our mutual membership and other problems and to retain an association formed by our founding fathers 127 years ago.

Your support is needed and appreciated. Thank you.

Connecticut High School Students Help The KTEF and Knights Templar Help Connecticut High School Students!

A Check in the amount of $2,100 was recently sent to the Knights Templar Eye Foundation, Inc., by Washington Commandery No. 1 stationed in East Hartford, Connecticut. This amount was the result of the collecting of over 42,000 nickel-deposit bottles and cans during the 1999 calendar year by faculty, staff, and students and families of Wethersfield High School. The project was led by Mrs. Joyce Lido Porter, a member of the faculty of the high school and the daughter of Washington Commandery's Past Commander Emil G. Lido. Similar donations have been made by the same group for the past several years, and this year's contribution brings their cumulative total to over $7,300. To encourage the continuance of this support, Washington Commandery has pledged to match the school's donations to KTEF with one or more scholarships for deserving students. (Article submitted by Charles B. Fowler, Jr., Recorder, Washington No. 1.)

The 32nd Annual Voluntary Campaign: The Campaign has ended, but the need has not!

by Sir Knight Charles A. Garnes, Honorary P.D.C.
Chairman of the 32nd Annual Voluntary Campaign

There is a beginning and an end to a Campaign; the 32nd Annual Voluntary Campaign ended April 30, 2000. Let each of us remember that there are still those in need of our help, and the many letters we receive are proof of what it really means to those who have been helped by the Knights Templar Eye Foundation, Inc. Sir Knights and Commanderies are asked to continue their support outside the campaign as well and during the five-month time period.

This year we added several enhancements to the Campaign, and we hope they have shown and will continue to show a positive approach to our fund-raising. We now have eleven Permanent Donor Funds. The additional funds that have been established are:

PDF No. 8	The John L. McKie Fund (Texas)
PDF No. 9	The Ruth E. McKie Fund (Texas)
PDF No. 10	The Betty and Randy Walker Memorial Fund (established by Randolph J. Walker— Maryland)
PDF No. 11	The William S. Elliott Fund (established by Milford Commandery No. 11 (Mass.)
PDF No. 5	The Marie Keash LeLash Fund added $10,000.00, so this PDF is now $20,000.00

Who will be Permanent Donor Fund No. 12?
The Campaign was named in honor of Willard Meredith Avery, Most Eminent Past

Grand Master, and we hope that, when all the donations are counted, we will exceed the goals that have been established.

Just Remember, Sir Knights: If everyone gave Just $10.00, we would exceed our goal

In closing, I extend orchids to those who have helped the campaign in any way. To those who forgot or chose not to support your charity, would you like an onion? As stated in the first paragraph, the need continues, and you can still extend a helping hand to those who are less fortunate than ourselves.

Sir Knight Charles A. Garnes, Honorary Past Department Commander and P.G.C. of Pennsylvania, is the Campaign Chairman of the 32nd Annual Voluntary Campaign and is a member of Duquesne Commandery No. 72, Penn Hills, Pennsylvania. He resides at 1700 Jamestown Place, Pittsburgh, PA 15235-4944. Send personal e-mail to: cagarnes@aol.com. For information on the KTEF, send e-mail to ktef@knightstemplar.org

Let's Ride Through 2000
Like Knights Of Old!

For a donation of $10.00, you will receive a lapel/tie tack pin depicting "the Templar Seal" (to right). The pin is polished bronze and is a real eye-catcher that will invite inquiries. It will open the door to discussions of Templary. All net proceeds are given to the Knights Templar Eye Foundation, Inc. Mail your check, payable to: Charles A. Games, Trustee; 1700 Jamestown Place; Pittsburgh; PA 15235-4944. Include a note "For a Templar Seal Pin." Please provide legible mailing address.

The Templar Seal
The Seal of the Knights Templar Depicted two knights on a single horse. This was a reflection of the impoverished start of the order, when it is said that the fledgling knights were too poor to each own a horse. Later the Knights Templar would grow wealthy, but this seal was to be a reminder of those days. First used by the Grand Master, Bertrand do Blanctort, in 1168, it has become synonymous with Templarism.

Templary 2000 Crusade...

Now You Can Add "Membership Development Skills" To Your Resume... Or Can You?

by Sir Knight Bill R. Clutter, KCT, P.G.C. (IN)
Chairman, Templary 2000 Crusade

Our "hats (or rather chapeaux) are off" to the Templar leaders in the many jurisdictions who contributed to the outstanding February 2000 results: over 1,000 Knightings and 200 restorations. The goal of achieving both 2,000 new Knightings and restorations is now in sight.

Has Your Commandery Contributed?

Many have, but most have not. If not, why not? Exercise your leadership: Plan to invite several non-York Rite Masons to become members of our glorious Christian Order, and participate in the largest membership development program in modern times. Ask a Masonic friend now so that both of you can participate in this premier program.

The Window of Opportunity

May 31 is quickly approaching; it is less than a month away. But it is not too late to invite neighboring York Rite groups to participate in a festival. Invite non-York Rite Masons to join and experience the beauty of our degrees and orders just as you did at one time.

Aren't you glad that someone invited you to become a member of this glorious Fraternity? You should do the same, and do it now!

No Slam-Dunk and No Free Lunches

Achieving membership growth in all Commanderies is everyone's job. Are you doing your part? We need your help.

As you know, membership gains don't just happen. They are accomplished by goals being established, plans being developed and implemented, responsibilities being assigned, and by tracking results.

Recruiting is both fun and hard work, but it takes time. Remember the old adage, "If It Is to be ... It Is up to me!"

Positive Thinking Proves Powerful

We have leadership in many jurisdictions that continue to make membership development a high priority. They have focused on cultivating the philosophy of the "Family of Freemasonry" and are contributing to preserving the great heritage of this order into the next millennium. They are attempting to redefine leadership within this order and having fun doing it. You know who they are. Catch them if you can!

We Signed the Mortgage

Each Grand Commander has made a commitment to the Templary 2000 Crusade goal by forecasting new Knightings and striving for restorations. How do your results compare to your goal thus far? By the way, who is in charge of membership development in your jurisdiction? We all are.

Help us achieve our lofty Crusade goals, and whittle away at the principal of new members and restorations. Make your Crusade commitment become a reality!

You Can Do It!

We hope that our successful Crusade leaders will be able to update each of their résumés with the following attributes: "possesses strong membership development skills, maintains a positive attitude, promotes teamwork, communicates strategies and tactics, attains goals, and keeps commitments."

Today, we live in a competitive world where scores are kept daily on just about everything. We are keeping score on the Templary 2000 Crusade membership development results, as it is a necessity. We need your assistance, and that's a necessity also.

Let each of us respond to Grand Master Ward's call to do the absolute best that we can to accomplish the Templary 2000 Crusade goal assigned. We can do It!

Now let's show everyone that we are as good as we say we are!

Templary 2000 Crusade In Oklahoma - A Huge Success!

The Templary 2000 Crusade in Oklahoma on February 5, 2000, was a huge success by any measure. Paul T. Million, S.G.I.G., the top leader of the Scottish Rite Masons in Oklahoma, was one of the principal supporters of the program, and he and others were presented by Grand Master James M. Ward with Grand Encampment of Knights Templar Certificates of Appreciation. Under the direction of Sovereign Million, 17,000 letters were sent to all Oklahoma Scottish Rite Masons urging them to take advantage of this opportunity, and he authorized the use of all three Scottish Rite Temples: McAlester, Guthrie, and Tulsa. The York Rite degrees were performed in all three Temples on this day, and the Orders were conferred upon 246 new members in one day!

History of the Grand Encampment of Knights Templar of the United States of America: Book II

Chapter VI

Features Of Triennial Conclaves

Fifty-first-1970

At 9:00 A.M. on Monday, August 24, 1970, the officers of the Grand Commandery of Colorado formed a line on the left and those of the Grand Commandery of Iowa formed a line on the right of the platform where Sir Knight Richard K. Ayers, General Chairman of the Colorado - Iowa Triennial Conclave Committee, welcomed the assemblage of Sir Knights, and received the Grand Commanders of the two states, Sir Knights Harry W. Pride of Colorado and Jack G. Stafford of Iowa. Each Grand Commander extended a welcome, introduced, and then dismissed his officers. They then received the Grand Encampment officers as Sir Knight Ayers introduced those officers. Sir Knight Pride asked Sir Knight Stafford to retire with an escort, conduct into the asylum, and introduce the Most Eminent Grand Master. The Grand Master expressed his thanks for their official courtesies and asked them to retire and join the other Sir Knights.

During the next four days there were the usual breakfasts, luncheons, dinners, etc., organized by the states and other organizations. On Wednesday evening, August 26, the Currigan Exhibition Hall was the site of the Grand Master's Banquet, which was a gala affair with almost 1,800 in uniform and formal dress in attendance. The speaker for the affair was Sir Knight Bruce C. Clarke, general, U.S. Army, retired, who paid tribute to the late Grand Master Brucker, saying "I would be remiss if I did not pause to pay tribute to the late Wilber Brucker. I was a general officer the eight years Wilber served in the Pentagon. While I did not serve in the Pentagon with him, I felt his influence in my commands in Korea, the Pacific, 7th Army, Continental Army, and as Commander-in-Chief of the Army in Europe."

Others present at the banquet were Sir Knight and Dr. John L. Crofts, Jr., Army Medical Service in Germany; he represented Hermann von Salza Commandery No. 1, Frankfurt, Germany, and presented the Grand Master (his father) and the Grand Recorder with certificates of Honorary Membership in the Hermann von Salza Commandery. Dr. Croft's wife was also in attendance. Mrs. Wilber M. Brucker was present at the Conclave, and with the assistance of a grandson, William M. Brucker III, she "sold one hundred autographed copies of her biographical account of Sir Knight Brucker's years as a lawyer, soldier, governor, and Secretary of the Army. Proceeds went to the Knights Templar Eye Foundation."

Fifty-second-1973

Past Grand Commander of Illinois, Charles E. Bostick, was President of the 1973 Triennial Corporation. Corporation Treasurer was Sir Knight Carl W. Lutz; committee key chairmen included Sir Knights N. Tracy Walker, Gerald D. Sanderson, Marvin A. Hendrickson, Larry Delp, and Walter K. Vartan. There were many other Sir Knights of Illinois who devoted countless hours to preparation for the Fifty-second Triennial Conclave which was held in the city of Chicago, Illinois, August 9-16, 1973. The Grand Encampment had been convened in Chicago in 1859, 1880, 1910, and 1943, so this was the fifth visit to the "Windy City."

There were various committee meetings on Thursday and Friday, and on Saturday the entire day was used for the Drill Team Competition at the huge McCormick Place. "Grand Master Bell and the Drill Team of Detroit Commandery No. 1 participated in Chicago's Lakefront Festival Parade

Saturday afternoon, and the Detroit Drill Team presented an exhibition drill at McCormick Place Saturday evening at 7:00 and also presented a substantial check to the Knights Templar Eye Foundation. There was no Templar Parade.

The Shower of Stars' entertainment on the stage of Arie Crown Theatre, McCormick Place, followed the exhibition. At the conclusion of the entertainment, Chairman John H. Loree introduced to a packed house the Drill Competition judges. Grand Master Bell, with the assistance of the grand officers, then presented the drill competition awards.

The Divine Service on Sunday was given by Dr. Beryl Sales Kinser, Associate Grand Prelate of the Grand Encampment. He spoke of 'The Knight Templar's uniform,' not only the one of cloth which covers the Knight Templar, but the "spiritual uniform which should be one that would be most becoming to a Knight Templar. Following the service was a Triennial Conclave luncheon in the Con Maxwell Hall, McCormick Place. Grand Master Bell presented membership plaques to Grand and Subordinate Commanderies showing gains during the Triennium. The Grand Commandery of Tennessee took top honors for a gain in membership for each year since 1942.

The opening ceremonies which started at 9:00 A.M. on Monday were open to invited visitors and lasted about two hours. Sir Knight Walter H. Vartan, Illustrious Past Potentate of Medinah Temple, Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, introduced the Honorable Richard J. Daley, Mayor of Chicago, who gave a message of welcome to all present. Mrs. Clarence W. Fagerstrom, President of the Supreme Assembly, Social Order of the Beauceant, spoke, as did Mrs. Mae Mickelson, General Grand Worthy Matron of the General Grand Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star. There followed short talks by: Mrs. Agnes McLeod, Supreme Assembly of the International Order of the Rainbow for Girls; Mrs. Doris Bell, Supreme Council, Order of the Amaranth; Sir Knight Ian L. MacKean, Most Eminent and Reverend Grand Master of the Great Priory of Scotland; Sir Knight W. Stanley Wright, Supreme Grand Master of the Sovereign Great Priory of Canada; Illustrious George A. Newbury, Sovereign Grand Commander, Supreme Council, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite, Northern Masonic Jurisdiction; George M. Klepper, Grand Master, International Supreme Council, Order of DeMolay; and Most Illustrious, John R. Murphy, Most Worshipful Grand Master of Masons of Illinois.

There were the usual activities for the ladies and distinguished guests during the week. As expected, the highlight of the week was the Grand Master's Banquet on Wednesday evening, which honored the Grand Master and Mrs. Bell. Mrs. John R. Mendius was soloist for the occasion.

Fifty-third-1976

Prior to the 52nd Triennial Conclave in Chicago in 1973, the Committee on Time and Place had made arrangements for the 53rd Conclave to be held in Kansas City, Missouri, on August 14-19, 1976, and had received a letter from the mayor extending a hearty welcome; all of the necessary arrangements had been made. A year before the scheduled Conclave the Republican National Committee selected Kansas City as the site for its 1976 National Convention on August 16-20! After a conference call with the Grand Encampment officers, Grand Master Riegler, the Grand Recorder, Chairman Grundy, and several committee members met with Muehlebach officials, the President of the Kansas City Council, and other elected officials at the Convention Bureau headquarters. It was agreed that the Grand Encampment had first claim to reservations on August 16-20, 1976. Following the discussion the Grand Master made the following announcement:

1. Because promotion and support of the democratic processes are the goals of all Templar citizens, we have released the dates of August 14-19 next year, even though cleared for us by city officials, on behalf of the Republican National Convention. As a result of our cooperation, that convention is now scheduled August 16-20, 1976;
- 2 This consideration granted moves the dates of the 53rd Triennial Conclave to a new schedule. The Triennial Conclave will now be scheduled August 28 - September 2, 1976."

Strong Lineage, Native Tradition, and Masonry

by Dr. Stephen R. Greenberg, KYCH, 33°

This is an account of Pierpont Edwards, the first Grand Master of the state of Connecticut, but it is much more. It is the narration of an early American family with proud and deep historic roots.

Jonathan Edwards, whose son is the protagonist in this piece, was a fiery New England preacher of the mid-eighteenth century. It is said that he would shake his parishioners over hell "till they heard the cinders clink." Jonathan's father Timothy was the pastor of the First Congregational Church of South Winsor, Connecticut. Timothy Edwards was born in Hartford in 1669. His father, Richard Edwards, was a wealthy merchant who was able to provide considerable financial assistance to his son, a brilliant scholar at Harvard College. Timothy subsequently entered the ministry, serving at a small church in Winsor, hard by the Connecticut River. With almost no salary from his church with which to support his new wife, he might well have gone on to starvation, had it not been for his father who provided him with a new house and a farm adjacent to the parish. In this setting, Timothy raised a family of ten daughters and one son. Each of his brood was over six feet in height. He often referred to his girls as "Sixty feet of daughters." He cared for his family for nearly sixty-four years until his death in 1758 at the age of eighty-nine years.

His only son Jonathan became a Calvinist preacher. One of Timothy's daughters married Reverend Aaron Burr. Their son was the infamous Aaron Burr of Colonial history.

In 1757 Jonathan Edwards succeeded Reverend Burr as the president of New Jersey College, later renamed Princeton University. His tenure was brought to an early end when after serving for only one year, he died following an aberrant small pox vaccination.

The youngest child of Jonathan and Sarah Edwards was born in Northampton, Massachusetts, on April 8, 1750. He was named Pierpont, his mother's maiden name. With this introduction our story unfolds. Soon after his birth, Pierpont's father lost his position. Almost destitute, the family moved to Stockbridge where the elder Edwards became a missionary for the local Indian tribe. He kept this employment for six years. During this period, he conducted a school for both Indian and white children. The constant association of young Pierpont with both ethnic groups allowed him to become equally familiar with each language. His elder brother also possessed this linguistic ability. His brother subsequently resided with a group of Indians living in western New York where he became a missionary among them. Pierpont chose a different course, one of education, leading him to the presidency of Union College in Schenectady, New York. When Pierpont was about six years old, his father moved the family to Princeton, New Jersey, where he became a college president until death called him the following year. His mother also died soon afterwards, leaving the young boy an orphan before his eighth year. Through good fortune, Pierpont received kind foster care from a family who carefully attended to his education through Yale University. He became a lawyer practicing in New Haven, Connecticut.

In 1775 Pierpont Edwards marched with the military volunteers from New Haven to answer the call from the stone-works of Lexington. Existing records indicate that he was somehow present at American Union Lodge in Morristown, New Jersey, at the festival of St John the Evangelist, though he was not as yet a member of the Craft. Here he met many of the officers of the Revolution including Washington, Hamilton and Benedict Arnold.

When Pierpont left the army, he became a Mason in Hiram Lodge in New Haven where he was initiated on December 28, 1775, at the age of twenty-five. He advanced in the Craft, becoming the Worshipful Master of this, the oldest lodge in the state of Connecticut, in 1778.

In 1783 a group of Masonic lodges in this state convened in New Haven to establish regulations for the proper conduct of the affairs of the Craft. At this meeting Pierpont Edwards was a delegate from Hiram Lodge and was appointed to serve as secretary. He was also chosen to serve on a committee charged with overseeing Connecticut Freemasonry. At this time all lodges were working under the authority granted by pre-revolutionary Provincial Grand Masters. Because such authority had now terminated, the lodges in Connecticut met once again in Hartford on May 14, 1789, to consider the propriety of forming a Grand Lodge. Pierpont Edwards, again a delegate, became chairman of a committee to formulate plans to be submitted on July 8 in the following year at New Haven. When Pierpont presented his concept for the formation of a Grand Lodge of Connecticut in 1790, together with a new constitution, both were adopted by ballot and he was elected as the first Grand Master of his state.

When peace came to the colonies, he turned his interest to politics. He became a member of the Continental Congress and later was the representative of New Haven in the General Assembly, becoming the Speaker of the House in 1789.

During the previous year, he had also served as a member of the Connecticut Convention at which the Constitution of the United States was ratified.

President Jefferson appointed him as a judge of the United States Court for his state, an appointment held until his death.

Pierpont Edwards was a positive and courageous man who was instrumental in the establishment of the Toleration Party in his state, an act which roused the hostility of the Calvinists and deprived him of much support. Opposition to him, however, failed to endure, and whenever important considerations arose in state government, it was generally recognized that Pierpont Edwards' opinions and values were always highly motivated and unselfish.

The citizenry knew that he loved his commonwealth and was most often on the right side of the issues. One example was his rule as the trustee and administrator in settling the estate of Benedict Arnold after he had been found guilty of treason and had fled the country. Though detracting much from his popularity, he acted in accord with the highest principles of law, bringing this unfortunate matter to a proper end.

He continued to serve his country, his state, and his beloved Craft until he was called to his eternal home on April 14 of 1826 at the age of seventy-six. He was laid to rest at New Haven, Connecticut.

His son, Henry Edwards, followed in his father's footsteps, becoming a Mason in Hiram Lodge on February 2, 1809. He also was a member of Franklin Royal Arch Chapter in New Haven and an early member of Harmony Council of Royal and select Masters in New Haven.

Though not one of the best known figures of the Revolution, Pierpont Edwards was one of many sincere and active patriots who gave valuable support to those who advanced the American cause to the world. He captured the respect of all his Brethren.

His legacy was truly recognized when the Grand Lodge of Connecticut established a medal for Distinguished Masonic Service to perpetuate the memory of this important Brother, the first Grand Master of Connecticut. An impressive monument to his memory was erected over his grave site which eternally says, "Thank you Worshipful Brother Pierpont Edwards."

Rod Cameron: Silver Screen Cowboy and Once a Mason

by Dr. Ivan M. Tribe, KYCH, 32°

Someone once described Rod Cameron as the "poor man's John Wayne." Like the "Duke," Cameron was a rugged, handsome, and able actor who proved ideal for he-man type action films. While Rod became a star, his stature never quite approached that of Wayne. Among the unusual twists that Rod's life took, none quite equaled the fact that he became one of the few men in history that married his mother-in-law. Also, Cameron's Masonic membership did not endure until his death for reasons that are now likely to remain unknown. Nonetheless, he was a well-known Mason in the entertainment world for nearly two decades.

Cameron was born as Roderick Nathan Cox in Calgary, Alberta, Canada, on December 7, 1910. His father was a mechanical engineer and moved back east to Toronto two years later where the family lived until 1925 when Robert Cox passed away. The surviving Coxes then moved to New York, and Rod finished high school in White Plains, where he participated in sports and amateur theatrics.

As a teenager, Rod Cox allegedly aspired to become a member of Canada's famed Northwest Mounted Police, but some type of injury kept him from qualifying. At any rate, he went to work chiefly as a construction laborer, an occupation he pursued for roughly a decade. Somewhere in this period he moved to California and began aspiring to break into pictures. After several tries he landed a small part in a Bette Davis film at Warner Brothers called The Old Maid. Although Rod "Cameron," as he was now known, received a screen credit, his scenes were actually cut out of the film. Rod then spent three years at Paramount as a contractee, playing mostly bit parts.

In 1943 the Rod Cameron star began to rise when he landed the role of Rex Bennett in a pair of adventure serials at Republic, G-Men vs. The Black Dragon and Secret Service in Darkest Africa. Both proved highly popular, and Cameron began to get better roles and was soon signed to a long-term contract at Universal. At this studio he did the lead role in a series of six B westerns, typified by Boss of Boomtown and Trigger Trail, while playing support roles in other films.

Finally in 1945, Rod got his big break starring opposite Yvonne DeCarlo in Salome, Where She Danced, a big budget Technicolor feature. This film elevated Rod to true, star status and led to two more starring pictures with Miss DeCarlo, Frontier Gal and River Lady. He also starred in Pirates of Monterrey with the late Maria Montez.

Over the next two decades, Rod Cameron's stock in trade became medium budget adventure films - mostly, but not exclusively westerns. This placed him in a category with George Montgomery, Audie Murphy, and Randolph Scott. Discussion of all these films would encompass excessive space and only a few examples will be included: Stampede with Gale Storm (1949), Southwest Passage with Joanne Dru (1954), Hell's Outpost with Joan Leslie (1954), and Santa Fe Passage with Faith Domergue (1955). Non-western adventures included The Sea Hornet with Adrian Booth (1951) and The Jungle with Marie Windsor (1952). In all, Cameron starred in about three dozen of these adventure films.

Rod also starred in three syndicated television series during the fifties. The first in 1953, City Detective, saw him in the title role as Bart Grant of the NYPD. Most successful was State Trooper from 1957 to 1959; its concern was the Nevada State Police, and it lasted through one hundred and forty half-hour segments. The last, Coronado 9 in 1959, featured Rod as a private eye. He was also a guest on numerous TV shows over the years.

Rod Cameron's Masonic life began on April 4, 1949, in Metropolitan Lodge No. 646 in Los Angeles. He was passed a Fellowcraft on February 21, 1950 and was Raised a Master Mason on April 18, 1950. He took the Scottish Rite degrees in the Valley of Los Angeles on June 14-16, 1951. He subsequently became a Noble of Al Malaikai Shrine Temple. He remained a member of these bodies for the remainder of the fifties and through most of the next decade. He was suspended NPD from the A.A.S.R. on March 1, 1968 and from Metropolitan Lodge on November 4, 1969. As usual, the record is silent as to why this happened. He apparently never sought reinstatement.

Regarding his personal life, Cameron married one Doris Stanford, a church organist, about 1937. This marriage failed, as did a second one to Angela Alves-Lico in 1950. This union produced a son named Anthony in 1954. Later, in 1960 Rod married Angela's mother, Dorothy Alves-Lico.

This marriage endured until Cameron died some twenty-three years later.

Rod Cameron made his last movie appearance in 1978 in a forgettable film with the unlikely title of Love and the Midnight Auto Supply. He later retired and moved to Georgia where his son was a baseball player. The onetime silver screen cowboy and former member of Metropolitan Lodge No. 646 died on December 21, 1983, a few months after a visit to the Charlotte Film fair.

Note: The chapter on Rod Cameron in Buck Rainey's Heroes of the Range (Waynesville, NC: World of Yesterday 1987) contains a brief biography. For his Masonic history I am indebted to John Cooper, David Dresser, Eileen Irby, and Joan Sansbury. Miss Abby Goodnite prepared the manuscript.

Brother Claude D. Pepper—Southern Senior Icon

by Sir Knight Norman G. Lincoln, KYCH

One of the bitterest campaigns in Florida senatorial history took place in 1950 when the incumbent Senator Claude Pepper sought his fourth term against the challenger, George Smathers. Pepper had been an ardent New Deal supporter of Franklin D. Roosevelt, but he had made the error of backing Henry Wallace. His opposition to the Truman Doctrine had earned him the President's dislike. Liberals favored him, but Ralph Magill of the Atlanta Constitution called him a "spellbinding pinko." He got the nickname of "Red" Pepper and "_-lover" when he appeared with Paul Robeson. Pepper lost the Democratic primary, and his career seemed over.

Claude Denson Pepper was born September 8, 1900, at Dudleyville, Alabama. The oldest of four children of Joseph Wheeler and Lena Talbot Pepper, he learned to plow the land and hoe and chop cotton. When he was ten, his family moved to Camp Hill, Alabama, where his father tried operating a general store and was later made a deputy sheriff. After graduating from high school in 1917, Claude taught school for a year at Dothan, Alabama, and then attended the University of Alabama where he earned an AB cum laude in 1917. He earned his way through college by working at a Birmingham steel mill in the summer and managing a college dining hall. He was also on the track team, on the editorial staff of the Crimson and White, and participated in the Student Army Training Corps.

He then went to Harvard Law School where he received a JD degree in 1924. He was an instructor at the University of Arkansas Law School for one year, and one of his students was J. William Fulbright. After passing the Alabama Bar exam in 1924 and the Florida Bar exam in 1925, Pepper began his practice at Perry, Florida. In 1928 he entered politics and was elected to the Florida House of Representatives from Taylor County. He served on the Committee of Labor and Public Welfare. In 1930 he moved to Tallahassee, where he became a member of Tallahassee Lodge No. 1, the Scottish Rite, and the Shrine. He served on the Florida Board of Public Welfare as well as on the Board of Law Examiners. In 1934 he ran for the U.S. Senate but was defeated

Two years later he made it to Washington where he was to remain in public service for twenty-eight years.

Claude Pepper was named to the Military Affairs Committee of the Senate. Other committees he served were: Small Business, Education, Labor, and Foreign Relations, which he eventually chaired. In 1938 he traveled to Nuremberg where he heard Hitler speak. He became opposed to Nazism and supported rearmament. He pushed for the "Destroyer Deal" in 1940 to assist England as well as the Lend-Lease Act of 1941, and arming merchant ships. During World War Two he chaired a subcommittee on Wartime Health and Education. In 1945 he visited the Kremlin and interviewed Stalin.

Meanwhile, Brother Pepper married Irene Mildred Webster on December 29, 1936. She died in 1979. They had no children.

He was a member of many clubs and organizations: In college he belonged to Blue Key and Phi Beta Kappa, and he was also affiliated with Omicron Delta Kappa, Phi Alpha Delta, Sigma Upsilon, and Kappa Alpha. He attended the Baptist Church and was an Elk, a Moose, an Optimist, a Kiwanian, and a Woodman.

Senator Pepper rose in the ranks of the Southern Democrats by attending every Democratic National Convention from 1940 to 1980, often as the head of the Florida delegation. In 1948 he was their favorite son for the presidential nomination, but he got no other support, and Truman was reelected. Senator Pepper gave nominal support to the Fair Deal, and he voted for the Fair Employment Practices Commission and for equal pay for women. He was against the Republican Taft-Hartley Bill. He became known as a left-wing liberal, a dangerous label during the McCarthy Era.

Following his defeat for reelection to the Senate, Claude Pepper moved to Miami and began to build a constituency among the Cuban, Black, Jewish, and senior citizens of Dade County. His agenda was successful. The electorate approved of his support of Medicaid and law enforcement. They returned him to Washington as a member of the House of Representatives in the 88th Congress. He served twelve terms and at his death was the oldest man ever to serve. (This honor has since been taken by Brother Strom Thurmond.)

As a congressman, Pepper voted for the Alliance for Progress, the SST, the Antiballistic Missile, and the Civil Rights Act. He was a leading anti-Castro voice. By 1968 he had become a dove on Viet Nam. He chaired the House Un-American Activities Committee from 1969-1975. He was also a critic of Reaganomics. As he grew older, he did not ease up on activities. Even a pacemaker did not slow the 5-foot, 8-inch toupeed advocate of senior citizens.

In 1965 he introduced the Older Americans Act and chaired the White House Conference on Aging in 1981. He chaired the House Select Committee on Aging from 1977-1983. He also headed the powerful House Rules Committee in 1983. In 1983 he appeared on the cover of Time magazine, and he was said to be a folk hero of senior citizens.

Claude Pepper received five honorary college degrees; they were from: McMaster, Toronto, Alabama, Rollins, and Miami. His many awards include the Mary and Albert Lasker Public Service Award, the Eleanor Roosevelt Humanitarian Award, the Ballington and Maude Booth Volunteers of America Award, the Hubert Humphrey Statesmanship Award, and Man of the Year of the Florida Gold Coast Chamber of Commerce. In 1987 he published an autobiography, Eyewitness to a Century. Claude Pepper died May 30, 1989. The U.S. Postal Service will issue a stamp in his honor this year. He well deserved the honors he received!

The Bridge-Builder

An old man going a long highway
Came at the evening, cold and gray,
To a chasm vast and wide and steep,
With waters rolling cold and deep.

The old man crossed in the twilight dim-
The sullen stream had no fears for him;
But he turned when safe on the other side,
And built a bridge to span the tide.

Old man, said a fellow pilgrim near,
You are wasting your strength with building here.
Your journey will end with the ending day,
You never again will pass this way.

You've crossed the chasm, deep and wide;
Why build you this bridge at eventide?
The builder lifted his old gray head.
"Good friend, in the path I have come," he said,

'There followeth after me today
A youth whose feet must paces this way.
The chasm that was as nought to me
To that fair-haired youth may a pitfall be;

He, too, must cross in the twilight dim-
Good friend, I am building this bridge for him."
